Big Sum Wagered

PARIS, June 27.—Comrade, an English bred horse, but owned by E. de Saint-Alary, today won the Grand Prix de Paris in a driving finish, with Embury second and Sourbier third. The horses were heads apart at the finish. Bellhouse, an American jockey, rode Embury. Four American and eleven English jockeys had mounts.

The Grand Prix, which was at three thousand meters, carried a purse of 300,000 francs. The time was 3 minutes and 16.2 seconds.

Never in the history of the race had such a classy field of starters come to the post on the Longchamps course. The United States was represented by William K. Vanderbilt's Battersea, with Frank O'Neill up. Guy Garner, another American jockey, had the leg up on Dennis. There was a record attendance and the sums wagered were large.

Many Capable Heavies Seek Engagement with Champion

By JACK VELOCK.
International News Sporting Editor.
NEW YORK, June 26.—Now that Jack Dempsey has been given a clean slate by a federal jury in San Francisco, business will be sure to pick up in the heavyweight division. Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, is on record to the effect that the Salt Lake slasher is going to live up to the bargain he made before the battle of Maunabo Bay and be an active champion. More power to him.

Dempsey's acquittal was received with general satisfaction by boxing fans throughout the country, for the fistic public in general has always been satisfied that Jack was framed, and a victim of professional jealousy. Before he became champion no one criticized Dempsey, but shortly after he won the title green-eyed promoters and managers who envied him his success began to circulate propaganda. Having been cleared of the charges against him, Dempsey is certainly entitled to fair treatment, and there is no doubt that he will receive it from the sporting public.

Disappointment among boxing devotees over the news that Georges Carpentier plans to sail away to France without engaging in a professional contest in the United States is still keen. Dempsey himself is the most disappointed man of all. But the fact that a Dempsey-Carpentier bout looks like an impossibility before next year will not stop the heavyweights from looking forward to some cyclonic action.

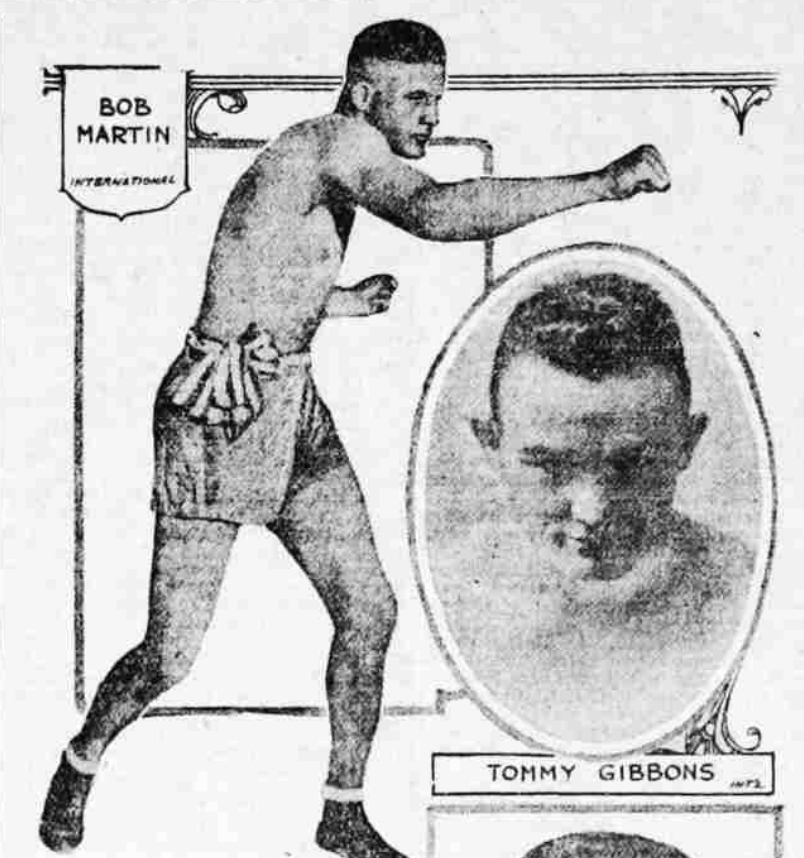

There are a number of capable heavies and light-heavies who are eager to get into the ring with the champion, and despite the fact that few if any of them are rated as highly as Carpentier, interest in the division is picking up and the fans are looking forward to some cyclonic action.

Would-be opponents for champion: Tommy Gibbons, Martin Burke, Bill Brennan, Gene Tunney, Billy Miske, Joe Beckett, Young Benny, Al Roberts, Fred Fulton, Georges Carpentier, Bombardier Wells.

There are others, to be sure, but the ones named here are the foremost of the field, and if he should meet them all Dempsey would find himself busy for more than a year. The name of Tommy Gibbons is the most prominent of the crown worn among aspirants to the crown worn by the champion may surprise some boxing fans who have not heard that the clever St. Paul battler has outgrown a middleweight division and is now a sturdy light-heavyweight, taller than Carpentier and just as heavy as the Frenchman.

Yes, sir, Tommy has jumped into the heavyweight class with both feet, and while he has only started his campaign—a campaign he hopes will lead to a bout with Dempsey and a chance at the title—he is in deadly earnest.

Tommy recently sailed for England under the management of Eddie Kane to seek glory on the other side of a heavyweight. But now he has come sailing back home without having engaged in a bout of any kind. Gibbons and his manager invaded England for the express purpose of getting bouts with Joe Beckett and Bombardier Wells. Tom thought, and rightly, too, that it would be a good thing to start at the bottom of the heavy-weight ladder, so to speak, and that's where he tried to start.

But Joe Beckett took a runout powder after one of his scouts had watched Tommy work out in a London gymnasium and refused to meet the St. Paul boy before next September. Next September Beckett plans to come to this country, and he has promised Gibbons the first bout on this side. Falling to land Beckett the Minnesota midget put feelers out for Bombardier Wells. He was told Wells wasn't available at the time. So there was nothing left to do but sail for home. Gibbons' experience has a parallel in that of Fred Fulton, who went to the British Isles with the same idea in view and failed to get on. They were afraid of Fulton. Likewise they were afraid of Gibbons. He showed too much class with his mits and acted altogether too rough.

Gibbons is going to start his campaign on this side of the water by force of circumstance. He is one of the cleverest boxers in the business. He can hit with both hands and is developing a wallop that should be a bacon winner.

Gene Tunney, Marty Burke, Billy Miske, Al Roberts, Ray Levinsky or any of the battlers named above will be acceptable to Kane and Gibbons, and, meanwhile, with all of these boxers eager for action and Champion Dempsey tuning up for a big campaign, there is promise of plenty doing among the big fellows.

WE'VE GEE SAYS— The boxer hit the punching bag A hard and healthy mount: The punching bag swung back again. He went down for the count.

Montello Bunch Too Fast for Railroads

The fast Montello Baseball club had little mercy on the Southern Pacific shop team at Lorin Park yesterday afternoon, winning with a score of 5 to 0. Henry on the rubber for the visitors was in rare form, holding the locals to four hits and retiring 15 via the strikeout route.

Chilton was touched for eight hits by the visitors. A home run by Wilson was the feature of the game. The lineup:

PRESIDENT MAY SUMMER AT LENOX, MASS.—IS REPORT

(By International News Service.)
LENOX, Mass.—Lenox society is stirred over another report that President Wilson may come to this resort some time this summer. Agents of the White House were in Lenox within the last ten days and made a second inspection of the estate of Mrs. Rap T. Baker, which was offered to the President earlier in the summer as a residence.

It is understood that plans have been made to prepare the Baker villa for his coming if it should happen on short notice. It is believed that the state of the President's health is all that has delayed the arrival of the White House family here.

EFFICIENCY INCREASED BY MUSIC; "JAZZ" TABOO

(By International News Service.)
WILMINGTON, Del.—Efficiency among workers in the plant of the P. Lorillard company here has increased 20 per cent since the inauguration of a continuous musical program during working hours. A gratifying feature of the innovation is that while classical or semi-classical music has been found beneficial, "jazz" has proved detrimental to efficiency.

A player piano has been installed in the wrapping department of the plant, rolls have been purchased and a boy hired to "make melody" from the time the girls begin work until they stop. Playing and singing is practically continuous. Whether following the measured tempo of a sentimental ballad or the accelerated time of a march, nimble fingers move more rapidly and production is increased.

Each week new rolls are bought and each week a singer from the service organization teaches the girls a new song.
